U.S. BANKERS FIND CANADIAN DOLLAR RATE HURTS TRADE

Are Considering Action to "Support" the Dominion Currency, Says New York Newspaper—Depressed Exchange Making It Increasingly Difficult to Do Business

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (CP).—United States banking and business interests are finding the heavy discount on the Canadian dollar somewhat of a boomerang and are considering action to alleviate their distress.

The New York Herald-Tribune, in a financial page item today, remarking that banking interests in this country are taking note of the situation, says there is talk in Wall Street of "support" for the Dominion currency.

"It was pointed out," says the paper, "that the further the Canadian dollar declines the more difficult it becomes to do business with Canada. If prices are scaled up to meet the deficiency realized on exchange it naturally becomes quite impossible to compete with Canadian or British goods in the Dominion."

SHOULD BE SUPPORTED

It is reasoned that New York's interests in supporting the Canadian dollar should receive additional support from banks and corporations which have bank balances in Canada. Corporations whose subsidiaries operate in Canada, but pay dividends to parent companies on this side of the border, should also be interested in supporting the Canadian dollar.

Just what form the "support" would take is not pointed out, but the Herald-Tribune says it is "recognized generally it would be of mutual benefit."

IMPRESSED BY WESTERN SPIRIT

Hon. W. A. Gordon Expresses High Opinion of Country's "Recuperative Powers"

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (CP).—Canada's mining industry is going forward readily in spite of low prices for its products, says Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration and Mines, in a statement today on his return from Vancouver where he attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Mr. Gordon was impressed not only with the progressive and ambitious attitude of those in the mining industry, but with the spirit of the Western people as a whole.

"The West has suffered a temporary setback," he said, "but it will emerge economically sound and quickly too, and I believe that part of the country will lead the Dominion in the return to prosperity."

The minister said the meeting in Vancouver was largely attended and was most encouraging.

While in the West Mr. Gordon visited the smelter at Trail, B.C., and expressed himself as being at the work being done there. The process of developing fertilizer from by-products was becoming a most important industry there, he believed, and should prove a great advance to agriculture. The fertilizer produced there was being shipped as well, to the most distant parts of the world, he said.

HAS REASSURANCE FOR BONDHOLDERS

Hitler Promises, If in Power, to Honor Germany's Bonds in Foreign Hands

BERLIN, Dec. 4 (AP).—If and when Adolf Hitler, the Fascist, assumed power in Germany, foreign bondholders need not fear for their holdings, he told the Associated Press today, unless France's threat of reparation is accepted by the world powers. The militant leader of the Fatherland's legions of Fascists said:

"If the world acknowledges that political debts take priority over commercial debts—in other words, if France's threat is accepted—then Germany is bound to collapse economically and there obviously will be nothing from which to meet commercial obligations."

To pay 2,500,000,000 marks reparation besides 2,500,000,000 interest on debts would necessitate exporting 50,000,000,000 to 60,000,000,000 marks worth of goods. That would spell economic chaos, not only for Germany but likewise for foreign countries.

Vacancies Filled in Irish Senate

DUBLIN, Dec. 4 (AP).—Cumann-naghadh, the Government party, won ten of the twenty-three Senatorial vacancies filled in Irish Free State elections today. Fianna Fail, Republican party, won eight seats and Labor two. The others were scattered.

MILAN FIRE FATAL

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 4 (AP).—The five-story building occupied by the Milan agency for the Fox Film Company was destroyed by fire today. Benvenuto Adorni, director of the agency, was burned to death.

The Bridge Battle of the Century

THE most widely-heralded series of contract bridge matches ever played will start next Monday when the Ely Culbertson and Sidney Lens teams will settle the championship of the two playing systems.

Culbertson has laid a $5,000 wager against Lens's $1,000, the proceeds to go to charity. The match is at 150 rubbers. From left to right are the principals: Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson, Lieutenant Alfred M. Gruenther, U.S.A., chief referee; Mr. Lens and his partner, Oswald Jacoby.

Royal Commission on Transportation Opens Hearing at Ottawa—Hon. R. J. Manion Gives Figures on Financial Position of Both Transcontinental Railways

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (CP).—The Canadian National Railways system had the first innings before the Royal Commission on transportation today. For more than three hours, behind closed doors, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Government-owned system, and his officials were examined by the new board which has tackled the Canadian transportation problem.

WILL MAKE NO BINDING DEALS

Britain Will Await Decisions of Conference Before Entering Trade Agreements

NEWPORT, Monmouth, England, Dec. 4 (CP).—Pending the outcome of the Imperial Conference, Great Britain will make no binding trade agreements, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said here tonight. Great Britain is willing to enter friendly discussions with any country on the subject of tariffs, but no final agreements will be signed.

Referring to the conference, scheduled for Ottawa next July, the Chancellor said:

"If ever a conference may be said to be fraught with destiny, that is the one that may well prove to be a turning point in our long and glorious Imperial history. The ties that unite the different countries comprising the Empire now have become so slight that unless we find some material interest to strengthen them, we might discover some day they have become perilously slender. If ever they should pass—which God forbid—it would be a disaster, not only for the Empire but for the whole world."

Judges Protest Cuts in Salary

LONDON, Dec. 4 (CP).—British judges today were making representations to the Government through Lord Bessy, Lord High Chancellor, protesting against proposed reduction in their salaries, which, under provisions of the economy programme, would be cut 20 per cent.

The Lord High Chancellor normally receives $50,000 a year, the Lord Chief Justice $40,000. Judges both of the Chancery and King's Bench division, $25,000.

INJURED WHEN CAR COLLIDES WITH TRAIN

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4.—Miss I. K. Pearson, Bonar Avenue, is in the General Hospital suffering from bruises and shock as a result of a spectacular collision at First Avenue and Main Street at 1:30 a.m. between the car in which she was riding and a train.

The car was badly damaged, and its driver, Robert Hinchcliffe, Nelson Avenue, Burnaby, was arrested on a charge of driving to the common danger. He pleaded guilty in police court and was fined $30.

WHEAT ARRIVES FOR FLOOD VICTIMS' RELIEF

HANKOW, Dec. 4 (AP).—A second consignment of American wheat for relief of Chinese flood sufferers arrived here today. The consignment totaled 4,000 tons. It is part of the 135,000 tons which is expected to have arrived by April.

CANADIAN PREMIER OBTAINS WHEAT QUOTA FOR DOMINIONS

London Press Says Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett Achieved Great Forward Step Towards Imperial Preference—Government Announces Impending Legislation Favoring Empire Grain

Australian Statesman Says Move Is Most Significant

LONDON, Dec. 4 (CP).—The Evening News tonight said Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada had suggested to the British Cabinet that a wide scheme of Imperial preference through tariffs must be the keynote of plans for the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference.

The newspaper added Mr. Bennett was assured the British ministers were working on plans which will undoubtedly secure a profitable market in this country for Canadian wheat, and, if the plans are approved at the conference, it will be found British goods will obtain a substantial advantage on the Canadian market.

DONE IN TIME

The Evening Standard editorially associated the Canadian Prime Minister's departure with the information revealed last night that the Government intends to apply a quota to wheat from the Dominions. "It was done late," the newspaper remarked, "but it was done in time."

The Standard declared the United States was willing, even anxious, to help to bring the Canadian dollar back to parity, and was willing to advance all goods necessary for the purpose.

OBTAINED QUOTA

Mr. Bennett, the newspaper continued, can be relied upon to reject these offers; for now that he has got his quota, his hands have been tremendously strengthened. Nevertheless, said The Standard, there may be pressure from the West, and he will have to use a firm hand if he is to resist a reciprocity movement similar to the Laurier movement of 1911.

INCREASE OPPORTUNITIES

LONDON, Dec. 4 (CP).—Greatest significance in the proposed Empire wheat-quota for Great Britain lies in the fact that increased trade opportunities are to be given the Empire in the British market, said Rt. Hon. Stanley M. Bruce, former Australian prime minister, here tonight. "It is a gesture towards the Dominions," he said, "that is going to have an amazing effect on public opinion in the great Dominion of Canada, and, in a lesser degree, in the Dominion of Australia."

It was difficult to forecast the probable trade effect on the quota, Continued on Page 2, Column 3

RUSSIANS BUY FOREIGN WHEAT

Two Cargoes of Australian Grain Ordered for Siberian Needs

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (CP).—Confirmation of reports that Russia had become a buyer of Australian wheat to supply part of its winter needs threw further light today on the recent decline in Soviet grain exports. Russia was reported to have bought two cargoes of about 60,000 bushels of Australian wheat today in the English parcel market, says The New York Evening Post.

IS USUAL THING

WINNIPEG, Dec. 4 (CP).—Purchase of Australian wheat by Russia at this time of the year is the usual thing, in the opinion of prominent grain men here, and has no bearing on the Canadian market.

Mandate by transportation facilities, Russia, each year at this time finds it necessary to buy additional grain from Australia to supply the needs of a small area on the South Siberian coast.

BOUGHT HERE LAST YEAR

To supply this small area last year, it was pointed out, Russia had to buy wheat from the United States from Vancouver to Vladivostok. It is not an indication, grain men believe, that pressure of Russian marketing will be lessened. Russia has not the facilities to move wheat to this area by any other route, and purchases from Australia at this time of the year have been the custom for years.

GERMANS MAY EAT DINNER IN PEACE

Political Meetings to Be Forbidden Between December 19 and January 2

BERLIN, Dec. 4 (AP).—Additional taxes for Germany are expected under an emergency decree the Government plans to issue next Tuesday. The decree will also forbid political meetings between December 29 and January 2 so that Germans may eat their holiday dinners in peace.

The decree provides for raising the rates of sales and turnover taxes and the introduction of a capital profits tax. It also plans a reduction of the low income tax limits which now are fixed at salaries of $25 a month and for the appointment of a price arbitrator.

A general reduction of all professional men's charges is also included in the present draft.

FAIR BOARD COMMITTED

B.C. Agricultural Ass'n to Stand Trial for Alleged Prize Drawing

The British Columbia Agricultural Association was committed for trial by Magistrate George Jay, in the Oak Bay police court yesterday, on a charge of conducting a scheme to dispose of automobiles and other property by the sale of tickets.

The preliminary hearing was brought to a close amid spontaneous outbursts of laughter as those present wended their way from the courtroom commenting humorously on the cross-examination of Clarence Harris, complainant, by W. H. Bullock-Webster, counsel for the defence.

Mr. Harris was the last to take the witness stand. Mr. Bullock-Webster asked him if he had seen the drawing of the tickets at the Willows Fair on the night of September 5. When asked who had done the drawing, Mr. Harris replied that he thought it was the Premier.

"You are better at recognizing these placard advertisements of the prize lists than you are at recognizing faces, then?" Mr. Bullock-Webster asked.

After further cross-examination, the witness recalled that the actual drawing was done by a woman. "What do you do for a living?" Mr. Harris was asked.

"I am a carpenter," was the reply. "Do you attend to all this court cases and carpenter work, too?"

A—"Yes."

Q—"What is this, recreation or work?"

A—"Sometimes it means work and sometimes it is recreation."

Q—"Do you get paid for all this?"

A—"No."

REVOLUTION IN SALVADOR BRIEF

Military Junta Quickly Restores Order—Rules Entire Republic

SAN SALVADOR, Salvador, Dec. 4 (AP).—The military junta that seized the Government in yesterday's one-day revolution succeeded today in extending its rule throughout the republic.

In San Salvador, order was completely restored and business was proceeding as usual.

General Max H. Martinez, former Vice-President and Secretary of War, was named today as the leader of the new government. President Arturo Araujo fled to Guatemala.

TOLL NOT COMPILED

The tabulation of the casualties still is incomplete. One of those killed was Francisco Espinoza, former Minister of the Treasury, who was hit by a bullet while passing the city jail in an automobile.

The Government, now in charge of a directorate of six officers and four subalterns, announced the national law would be respected and elections would be held as speedily as possible.

Another Drive by Germany to Start

BASEL, Switzerland, Dec. 4 (AP).—Germany will begin another drive tomorrow to convince the world she can no longer pay Great War reparations.

The German members of the Young plan advisory committee which is to begin an examination of Germany's financial situation on Monday, are due tomorrow, laden with documents supporting their contention that the former Allies should not ask for more war damages.

MOB OF THOUSANDS LYNCHES ONE NEGRO

SALISBURY, Md., Dec. 4 (AP).—A mob of men tonight stormed the Peninsula General Hospital here, seized Mack Williams, thirty-five-year-old negro and lynched him in the Wisconsin County Courthouse yard. The negro later today shot and killed Daniel J. Elliott, lumberman, and then wounded himself.

It was estimated that 30,000 persons were in the mob that dragged the negro to the courtyard where the rope was fastened about his neck and the other end tossed over a limb of a tree.

MIGRATION FLOWING AWAY FROM STATES

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—For the first time since records have been kept, the stream of migration has started to flow from the United States rather than toward it; and for the first nine months of 1931 the number leaving the country exceeded the number entering by 22,769, according to the current bulletin of the National Immigration Conference Board.

WOULD PROBE POLICE COSTS

L. W. Goddard, Police Board
Candidate, First to Open
Saanich Campaign

An investigation into the cost of policing the Saanich municipality under the Provincial Police system was suggested by Lewis W. Goddard, candidate for the police commission, at a meeting of the Saanich Central Ratepayers' Association, held last night in the Talmie School.

Mr. Goddard said he would not advocate any change in the present system of policing until there had been a thorough probe of the costs of having the Provincial Police.

He said that he believed many economies could be made in the present administration, but did not think that a reduction in policemen's pay was justified as they were only getting $125 a month and were working more than eight hours a day.

INTEREST LACKING

Mr. Goddard was the only one of the seventeen candidates now in the field to speak to the meeting. Such lack of interest on the part of the other candidates was criticized and it was decided to hold another meeting before endorsing candidates.

Boundaries will be the chief signal for all dogs in the municipality if a proposal made by the meeting is adopted by the Saanich Council. A resolution was passed asking the

IS FEELING BETTER
LIVERPOOL, Dec. 4 (CP).—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada said today, and before he left for London, that he was in a position to make a statement on the proposed wheat quota or on the rumor that the Imperial Economic Conference should be transferred from Ottawa to London.

Before leaving London earlier today, Mr. Bruce said his health was "much more good," he added.

Great Britain, he said, was turning "troubles into opportunities" and was facing present-day difficulties with courage and fortitude. He said for Canada "with great faith in the Empire," and he was convinced "faith equal to mine" would be demonstrated by the British statesmen who follow his trail when the Imperial Conference is held in Ottawa.

DAVID LEEMING MEETS WORKERS

Mayoralty Candidate Addresses Employees of Paint Company

David Leeming, candidate for the civic mayoralty, addressed a gathering of employees of the British America Paint Company, at the company's plant yesterday at noon.

Mr. Leeming was introduced by J. C. Pendray, manager for the company, and a former mayor of Victoria.

Mr. Leeming, he said, was an acquaintance of many years' standing, and he felt sure that his experience as an alderman in the past would be of great value during the coming year.

Mr. Leeming stated that all his interests were in Victoria, where he has resided since the year 1893. He was a heavy taxpayer and interested in the maintenance of the city on the lines of development and beautification that had been pursued in the past.

There must be no impairment of the standard that previous councils have maintained. He was, however, faced with the fact that the coming year would have to meet difficulties on account of the deficit and certain reductions in revenue.

There would have to be the strictest economy in the operation of the departments, he said.

Mr. Leeming stated he was interested in the property of the many industries of which Victoria boasted, and was prepared to do all in his power towards the greater use of home products, and that he would endeavor to revive the Winter Home Products Fair.

PERMANENT REMEDY
The permanent remedy for Victoria's problems lay in securing tax reform for the municipalities, and the development of her industries, the increasing of the tourist business, and restoration of the reverted lands to the tax roll.

He stated that he was working on a plan for the reverted lands, and this plan was now being considered by a committee of business men before being submitted to the public.

A headquarters spokesman, who for the past three days has reported several instances of Chinese reinforcements around Chinchow and Mukden, today exhibited a map based on observation by aviators, showing the disposition what he estimated were 35,000 to 40,000 Chinese regulars.

The lines extended in a long quarter moon from Chinchow through Tushan along the Tushan-Tungshing Railway, where Japanese, fifty miles northwest of Mukden, thus tending to envelop Mukden.

RECENT ARRIVALS
He said a great part of these forces had been brought north of the Great Wall recently, and that Chang Tso-Hsiang, the former Kirin warlord, had reached Chinchow on November 26, becoming the ranking Chinese commander. He said these alleged reinforcements did not yet constitute a menace requiring the Japanese army to take positive measures.

Referring to statements by travelers that such Chinese strength is not visible from the railway, the spokesman asserted that most of the troops were billeted in villages well off the ordinary travel routes.

One Chinese detachment, he said, has approached within three kilometers of Hsianmintun, where a small Japanese detail is guarding the consulate, while all other Japanese troops remain east of the Liao River.

TOKIO, Dec. 4 (AP).—Coincidental with reports of new trouble the War Office ordered a detachment from the Railway Regiment of the Imperial Guards Division to proceed to Manchuria, professing to aid in repairing track and bridges damaged by Chinese bandits.

Japanese press dispatches described the situation in South Manchuria as increasingly serious in view of the fact Chinese troops were occupying territory as quickly as the Japanese withdrew, interpreting their evacuation as a sign of weakness.

The total Japanese casualties in the Manchurian conflict thus far were listed by the War Office as 210 killed, of which 12 were officers, and 474 wounded, of which 27 were officers.

DISGUISED MUNITIONS
MOSCOW, Dec. 4 (AP).—Peiping dispatches, published here today, said that recent cases of war munitions had been accidentally discovered at the Chinese Eastern Railway Arsenal, and were skillfully disguised as sales of cotton, the dispatches said.

Published versions of the alleged discovery declared the incident proved the Japanese were supplying arms to White Russian detachments in Northern Manchuria. It was said that lately there have been many cotton shipments from the South, via the Chinese Eastern Railway, but until recently no suspicions were aroused by them.

CANADA'S FIRE LOSS

Lloyd George in Bombay Yesterday

BOMBAY, Dec. 4 (AP).—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister of Great Britain, and his party arrived here today and were greeted by the secretary to the Governor and an aide. The veteran statesman said his health was considerably improved by his voyage from England. The party sailed for Colombo this afternoon.

PREMIER HENRY DUE HERE TODAY

Leader of Ontario Government Will Spend Most of Vacation on Vancouver Island

Following the example set by the Duke of Connaught, who is practically spending his Winter vacation money in Devonshire, Hon. George S. Henry, Premier of Ontario arrived in Victoria today to spend his vacation in the mild climate of Vancouver Island.

The Premier, Mrs. Henry and their son, G. W. Henry, wife, arrived in Vancouver yesterday by the Canadian Pacific Railway. They came in a private car of the Ontario Government's T.N.O. Railway.

They will arrive here this afternoon and register at the Empress Hotel. Most of their vacation will be spent on Vancouver Island, although a portion of their sojourn in this province will be spent on the Mainland.

Mr. Henry is a big man, about six feet tall, and weighs 230 pounds. He is a heavy taxpayer and interested in the maintenance of the city on the lines of development and beautification that had been pursued in the past.

There must be no impairment of the standard that previous councils have maintained. He was, however, faced with the fact that the coming year would have to meet difficulties on account of the deficit and certain reductions in revenue.

ADDED EXPORT CAUSE OF RISE

Bureau Sees More Hopeful
Sign for Wheat Than Speculation Flurry

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (CP).—The main reason for the five-cent recovery in wheat prices in the past few days is found in increased export interest which is a much more hopeful foundation for a price rise than the speculation which accounted for more than half of the previous upward flurry. This was the view taken in a memorandum issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

EXPORT CLEARANCES
In the period from November 1 to November 27, export clearances of Canadian wheat amounted to 18,384,600 bushels. Of this total, 8,131,012 bushels were shipped from Montreal, 2,025,556 bushels from Sorel, 6,156,032 bushels from Vancouver and 2,070,000 bushels from United States ports. This movement is much greater than in any previous and similar period of the crop year. The clearances from the head of the lakes to Buffalo, N.Y. (which figures appear in the monthly export totals) are also considerable, amounting to about fifteen million bushels in the above-mentioned period.

GOOD COMPARISON
In November, 1930, 34,783,144 bushels of wheat and wheat flour were exported from Canada, and the clearance statistics suggest that the movement in November, 1931, will be only slightly lower. The Vancouver bookers show that there will be a good outward movement of wheat in December, and the last shipping days at Montreal have been featured by risk loading of grain.

EMPIRE HAS ITS PROBLEMS

George Pilcher Calls for Mutual
Study of Problems
Affecting Dominions

Before the Canadian Club yesterday at noon, George Pilcher, British parliamentarian and journalist, dealt with the situation in India only sufficiently to introduce to his hearers the great work that was being done by the British Empire in the interests not alone of that great commonwealth of nations, but for the whole world.

"There was no desire on the part of anyone in the Empire to keep India ground down just for the pride of having the flag float over that country. Great Britain accepted its duty in India as a world service."

"We want the United States as well as Canada to realize the magnitude of the task that is facing Britain in India," said Mr. Pilcher. "The goal for India was self government, and this would come when the British Parliament realized that the time was ripe for it. Referring to Gandhi, the speaker said that the trouble was that as soon as the ultimate objective of self government was announced, this leader, with his following, demanded that it should be done immediately."

CONFUSING DEMANDS
The Round Table Conference, which had been called in London, had shown just what the British Government had to face. With the demand for the exercise of democracy in India, there had come also a demand by the various minorities there for protection under the so-called democratic government proposal. This would destroy the very principle of democracy.

Mr. Pilcher said that the Indian question was only one of the problems that Great Britain had to face. Another one was the economic situation which Canada had to meet also. The problem was how to get out of a rut and guard against depression in the future. It was felt that there was no better time to go into this than now, and the recent British election showed this was the popular opinion.

The adverse trade balance was aggravated by the falling off from overseas investments by the people of British India, like the dividends from the C.P.R. stock, of which Great Britain held about half. In the Argentine the British investors had practically all the railways. These were not yielding dividends. The same could be said of the rubber plantation investments. Under these conditions the Old Country had come to realize that she could not go on buying wherever she pleased. She had come to the decision that the situation had to be changed, then there should be a preference shown towards "our own kith and kin."

CANADA LED WAY
Nothing like this preference had ever been attempted before, said the speaker. Canada had set the example. Canada had also shown the way the preference should be to the West Indies, where they had a working example of what could be done in this way.

Both parties to the trade arrangements between Canada and the Indies had gained.

The Statute of Westminster, which had been passed at London, was a move which made for the binding together of the Empire. Under this statute, it was decided that there should be equality among the Dominions of the Empire without any overriding power resting in the Old Lady of Westminster.

The various parts of the Empire believed in that union as the greatest thing in the world. They believed in the Empire as the fountain of freedom.

Mutual understanding by the various parts of the Empire of the other parts of the problems facing them were essential. As an example of the lessons that might be learned, the speaker referred to the experience in state ownership of railways in India, which might be worth studying in Canada with its problems in this direction.

WONDERFUL SYSTEM
A wonderful system had been worked out in India. There was a railway board of experts, not politicians, over the system. These railways were rented and the railway budget was kept separate from the national budget. The rentals yielded a return of 800,000,000 pounds sterling, which paid the whole interest on the investment, leaving five or six million pounds of a surplus.

Canada might, to advantage, call in one of these experts to appear before the commission now named. In conclusion, Mr. Pilcher said he felt the Empire could only break up through lack of information as to what the various parts were doing. The Empire needed the co-operation of each part in its problems.

Col. H. T. Goodland, president of the local branch of the National Council of Education, conveyed the thanks of the large gathering which greeted Mr. Pilcher in the Empress ballroom last night.

The president of the Canadian Club, W. H. M. Haldane, expressed the thanks of the club to the National Council of Education for the opportunity of having the speaker appear before them.

Big Game Hunter: Oh, I've been nearly eaten by lions many times, but life without a little risk would be very tame.

Mr. Suburban: I agree. Many times when the weather has seemed doubtful I have deliberately gone out without my umbrella!

DEMANDS RETURN OF WIFE BOUGHT

Gypsy King Puzzles Edmonton
Police When Explaining System of Marriage Market

EDMONTON, Dec. 4 (CP).—Fred Buro, sixty-eight-year-old king of Alberta's gypsies, rose up in arms last night, strode to the city police station and demanded his son's wife, for whom he had paid $2,500, be restored to his son without loss of time.

Buro's story cites gypsy law and gypsy custom. He said he had bought Teena Evans from Miller Evans, reputed leader of Eastern gypsies, in Montreal. The wedding had been held in Calgary in 1928 and the family later took up residence in Edmonton.

Happiness reigned in the gypsy home until recently, when telegrams from Evans demanded his daughter's return to the Eastern home. Buro refused.

"She was kidnapped. She was taken away to the East," Buro told the police. Her two children had also been taken away with her.

"Yes," said Buro, in answering police questions, "we all buy our wives and sell our daughters." The sons, he said, picked out the woman they wanted for a wife and father footed the bill.

Police were puzzled, but their puzzle increased when Buro said that with the kidnapped woman $20 in gold and clothes worth $100 had also disappeared.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (CP).—Edward Johnson, the Canadian star of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sang at a "command" performance for President Hoover, members of the Cabinet and a distinguished gathering of a hundred and fifty at the White House tonight.

Mr. Johnson appeared here last Spring in the leading role of the American opera "Peter Ibbetson," and official Washington liked his voice so well that he was asked to come down from New York for the annual "Cabinet dinner." On Wednesday Mr. Johnson sang at Mrs. Lawrence Townsend's musicale. In the afternoon the Canadian Minister and Mrs. Herridge gave an informal reception for him at the legation.

B.C. CHILDREN TO CORRESPOND

Canadian Exhibit at Manchester Evoked Wide-spread Interest

Picked from hundreds of letters written in connection with the Canadian exhibit at Manchester recently and fostered by schools and newspapers in England, seventy-five entries have been forwarded to the Department of Education here for distribution among British Columbia school children. The writers are boys and girls in or near Manchester, who saw the Canadian exhibit in Canada, after seeing the exhibition. British Columbia boys and girls will be asked to correspond with the English people.

Many of the letters show traces of the "wild and woolly West" impression, but all of them express genuine interest in Canada.

The experiment is regarded as a novel means of bringing young people of both countries into correspondence. The letters were addressed informally to "Our Canadian Cousins," and will be responded to in the same spirit.

TO STAGE RABBIT SHOW NEXT WEEK

Record List of Prizes for Competition at Annual Display at Willows

The eighth annual Provincial Rabbit Show, staged under the auspices of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association and the Saanich Fur Farmers' Association, will be held at the Willows next week, commencing Monday and continuing until Wednesday. A record list of prizes and trophies has been donated for competition, and it is expected that this year's show will be one of the most successful ever held.

In all classes of four and over, 70 per cent of the entry money will be paid out in prize money, in addition to which a special prize in the form of scrip, cash or goods has been placed against each class. These special prizes have been kindly donated by the business houses and friends of the rabbit breeders.

The judging will be in the hands of J. Thomson, A.R. and C.B.A. judge, of Vancouver, and C. Woolley, who has been appointed show superintendent, with the secretarial duties in the hands of E. Greenwood.

PROMOTED TO INSPECTOR

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4. — Former Staff Sergeant J. Phipps, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, has been promoted to inspector, according to the last Gazette, the promotion taking effect as from November 13 last. Inspector Phipps has been in the force for twenty-two years and has done very valuable work. He has been particularly effective during the past few years as head of the drug squad which has so vigorously waged war against smuggling of narcotics on this coast.

Having urgent reasons for leaving his home town in two days, a colored man located in a village not far distant. After a few months he entered the ministry. One night when he arose to preach he noticed, not far from the front, a man whom he immediately recognized as a resident of his home town. For a moment he was at a loss to know what to say, but escaped from the dilemma by saying: "Since coming to the pulpit I am moved to change my text. Next Sunday I will preach from the text announced for tonight. Tonight you will find my text in the 79th verse of the 108th chapter of Isaiah, where it says: "If you know me, say nothing, and I will see you later."

RE-WRITING THE CONSTITUTION

A Government reform movement, which some enthusiastic spirits have started in Victoria, premises conclusions that indicate little concern having been given to the manner in which constitutional authority has developed under the British flag. That illustrates more enthusiasm than constructive thought. It shows indifference to knowledge of constitutional development, such knowledge, indeed, as must proceed any attempts at such governmental reform as is proposed.

The local movement suggests an elected Legislature of twenty-one members who would "elect" one member of the Cabinet—the Premier—and he would be the only member of the Cabinet. There is something new in the proposal to "elect" a Premier. Our understanding is that the Premier, or Prime Minister, is simply the member of the Cabinet to whom the Sovereign, or his representative, has thought fit to entrust the chief direction of the Government.

To accomplish what the reform movement has in view would involve changes in the British North America Act. To effect these changes would demand the consent of the Federal Parliament and of all the Provincial Legislatures. That, possibly, may be the aim of the local reform movement, but, as applied to British Columbia alone, its proponents are putting forward what it would be an impossibility for this province, standing on its own feet, to accomplish. A proposal is also made that a reformed Legislature should sit continuously. The main complaint about government now is that it is responsible for too much legislation, even during the comparatively brief periods that Legislatures sit. If they sat continuously there is little doubt that the ills of the body politic would be multiplied and taxes would accumulate to take care of the legislation devised to justify a perennial talker.

Despite the spread of education there are still half-baked notions of what can be accomplished to improve a Constitution which has been evolved through centuries of experiment and which has broadened down from precedent to precedent. The enthusiasts forget that government, in the British way, is conducted "in conformity with certain traditional maxims, which limit the exercise of all political powers therein. These maxims are for the most part, unwritten and unconventional. They embody the matured experience of successive generations of statesmen and are known as the precepts of the Constitution." Our reform movement would change the elements of responsibility, the very form of government itself as decreed by the British North America Act. The platform may constitute a pious hope, but a one-man Cabinet is not possible, even in Fascist Italy, and the autocracy implied would never be tolerated in a British land.

What those sponsoring the reform movement forget is that under our Constitution, whatever its defects, the principle maintains of ministerial responsibility for all acts of government. The extraordinary suggestion is put forward that the "Premier" under a "reformed government," would occupy a position similar to that of the mayor. Even a cursory knowledge of ministerial responsibility makes this suggestion merely humorous. Under the Constitution the entire responsibility for the Government devolves on the first minister of the Crown. If he chooses he may insist upon the Cabinet deciding in any matter in accordance with his own particular views; otherwise he has the power by his own resignation of office to dissolve the ministry. The official channel of intercourse between the sovereign or his representative and the Cabinet Council is the Prime Minister.

In the local reform movement, by virtue of there being no Cabinet at all, there would be, by implication, no recognition of the Sovereign and his prerogatives in government. The Prime Minister would not be a Prime Minister; at all if he existed alone without a Cabinet. If his powers, as at present decreed by constitutional prescription, remained the same under a "reformed movement," he would be an autocrat, and those powers could not be changed without making sweeping alterations in the Constitution. Moreover, all ministers, or those discharging the duties of ministers must be responsible to the Legislature and must be a component part of that elected body.

The aim of the "reform movement"—perhaps not intentionally so—is to re-write the Constitution. Otherwise its proponents would have considered more deeply the implications of what they propose. A certain study of constitutional history should proceed any endeavors at governmental reform, and our political annals show that generations pass before reforms are instituted. Those who go about preaching reforms must not necessarily arrogate to themselves a wisdom which supersedes that of the centuries of effort through which the British Constitution was brought into existence and based on pre-emptive rights which should never be allowed to be taken away without the most determined and persevering resistance.

Nothing in anything advanced by the proponents of government reform shows wherein the changed constitution that is implied would better matters. The experience of the ages counts for a great deal in the science of government. What is the most important thing of all is that whoever advocates constitutional reforms should be thoroughly versed in every gradation through which the present constitutional freedom we enjoy advanced to its present stage. No mere announcement of an intention to re-write the Constitution of the British Empire will accomplish anything. It is an unwritten thing, as it is, which has marched step by step forward towards its present state of perfection in company with the laws under which that Empire has thriven.

RADIO RESEARCH WORK

Despite the extension of knowledge affecting the use of radio the amount done by it in forecasting weather changes is as yet of the infinitesimal order. It is a significant thing affecting one of the latest and most remarkable of discoveries that the engineer has come ahead of the scientist. In other words, the apparatus for radio broadcasting and radio reception is in advance of the theoretical knowledge of the subject. In order that the latter may catch up the British Radio Research Board's station at Slough is confining the chief part of its energies to ascertaining fundamental knowledge. One experiment is an effort to trace the source of electrical storms which disturb the upper atmosphere. In this search a cathode ray direction-finder has been evolved. Its value lies in ability to detect and record all electrical disturbances within a radius of 2,000 miles. There is a similar apparatus located at Leuchars, in Fifeshire, and continuous films are being made of the records of both these direction-finders, a process of synchronization being effected by time signals connecting the two stations. When the two films are projected simultaneously on the map of the world, the point of intersection of the two flashes is where the atmospheric originated. Thus the source of a storm can be located within a few hours.

It is hoped before long to establish a network of such direction-finding stations throughout Europe. In the research work a new type of automatic recorder has been invented. This registers instantaneously the arrival of every atmospheric change. These are being used in Australia; another is being placed in Canada, and possibly two more will be installed in New Zealand. Their joint object will be to map world storms the knowledge of which may facilitate radio operations, help the safe development of aerial flying and effect momentous changes in weather forecasting.

EVERY DAY HEROISM

In Hamilton, Ontario, recently, Dr. Frederick Mowbray had a heart seizure while performing an operation. He continued with the task until it was completed, although in agony, and he died when it was finished. In London a popular theatrical artist, Miss Wynn, left a sick bed to fulfill a promise to broadcast a fairy tale. The strain proved too great and she went back to bed to die. Commenting on these two happenings The London Times says:

"Neither of those benefactors of their kind—neither he that brought health nor she that brought happy laughter to men, women and children—would have claimed to be heroic any more than the men and women of 1914-1918; they had their job and they saw it through. Their worth is not lessened, it is enhanced, when they are seen as members of a countless host of people who have done, and who will yet do as they did. In every walk of life, both among men and among women, there are innumerable sufferers who conceal their pain and go on with their job when they would have had every right to give up and ask for succor from others. A cynic might say that at the root of this endurance lie a good deal of pride and dislike of being fussed over. It may be so. Neither the spirit nor its effect would be any the worse for that; and the most gloomy pessimist who claims to be a realist must feel a little more hopeful about human nature when he reflects that for every case of such heroism which is recorded there must be thousands which pass unrecorded."

The more the world suffers, or is alleged to suffer, the more glorious it grows. Much of the art of keeping the peace and promoting steady conditions lies in silence. "A man," says Dean Inge, "who can hold his tongue can hold anything, even a bishopric."

THE NAVY AND THE AIR

No country can be brought to terms or subjugated by aerial attacks alone. It can only be forced to capitulate by starvation, the defeat of its armed forces, or by invasion. Invading troops must still come by sea in ships, and invasion and starvation has been the duty of the Navy to prevent. The function of the Navy has not changed. It still exists to safeguard our marine communications by destroying or immobilizing any force which may threaten them. Unless we are prepared to pin our faith to the honesty and good will of mankind in general, and, in particular, to pacts and treaties and agreements which may be broken, we must still possess a navy which must include ships more powerful armed and better protected than the cruisers which act as a sort of police force upon the trade routes. "The sea," said Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, "is us."—Captain Dorrington in The Nineteenth Century.

Preserve self-possession, and do not be talked out of a conviction.—Cynners Middleton.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Five Nature's walks, about forty as it flies,
And catch the manners living as they rise;
Laugh where we must, be candid where we can,
But vindicate the ways of God to man.
—Pope.

Another of those dangerous quotations from memory; but if we are off the track again, like Finnigan's train, we shall be put on the right track again by some vigilant critic and puff away as blithely as ever. Almost everybody seems to be agreed that there is something wrong with the world, and nearly everybody is telling us what should be done to set the business of the world right again. Our opinion, whatever it may be worth, is that the matter which is wrong with the world is that the people of the world are taking the situation too seriously. If everybody would crack a joke when they meet their neighbors and look aloft they might see a silver lining in the cloud of gloom, and possibly a bright sun of hope shining in the heavens behind the seeming black cloud.

Never probably in the history of the historical Liberal Party of Great Britain has the political situation appeared so hopeless as it is at the present time. The situation of the Liberal Party of Canada is precisely the same as the situation of the British Liberal Party. Both of these parties are wandering without hope through the "valley of humiliation," and there is no pillar of cloud by day or pillar of fire by night to guide them upon their weary way. There is only one gleam of hope within the narrow horizon of their vision, and that is in the failure of the preferential trade policy of the Canadian Government and the protectionist policy of the Imperial Government.

The Manchester Guardian, one of two or three British newspapers still committed to the sacred and immutable principles of free trade, although its economic big guns have been spiked as a result of the recent election, still keeps shouting barbs at the National Government, but there is no venom on the shafts of its criticism. It still keeps on printing ponderous platitudes on the difficulties which confront Ramsay MacDonald and his administration, but it accepts the new political and economic situation cheerfully in comparison with its free trade on principle contemporaries in Canada.

The formerly ponderous Guardian actually has become so sprightly that it has ventured to crack a joke at the expense of George Bernard Shaw and the United States. It has got the notion into its head that the sovereign people of the United States, like the children of Israel at a critical period in their long and interesting history, are clamoring for a king to rule over and discipline them, and has nominated the august Bernard Shaw for that high and dignified position. The good Guardian further assumes that George will be the statesman of the United States delighted at the suggestion and has offered a prize for the best draft of Mr. Shaw's cabined acceptance of the kingdom of the new crowned democracy, which of course will be published without regard to the feelings of the parties concerned.

King George V, the United States would be of course, like Mr. Henry "Awkins, be a very fine name, but we wonder what Big Bill Thompson, who drove another King out of Chicago before he dropped into political oblivion, would think of such a "proposition" if he were not a deposed dictator. We also wonder whether His Majesty King George—or King Bernard, if he should prefer that name—would be able to establish on the banks of the Thames, where he has ruled like an intellectual monarch over the intelligentsia, and set up a more imposing residence on the banks of the Potomac, would carry his Soviet staff and principles with him and establish the system he says has been the salvation of Russia and will be the salvation of the world in the United States. Of course it hardly can be possible that even the Liberals of Great Britain have become tired of the whims and the eccentricities of the immortal George Bernard, and would be delighted if they could inflict him upon the people of the United States. There cannot be any malice at the back of the joke of The Guardian.

But if the United States really wants a king, what is the matter with The Manitoba Free Press nominating Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, who has not fulfilled our contemporary's expectations as Liberal leader, for that position? Mr. King is a much more dignified person than Mr. Shaw, and he can make longer and drearier speeches than the messengers of the most prolix and prosy prattlers, beginning with Hoover and going right away back to Washington. If we had a background like that of The Manchester Guardian, or even like that of The Manitoba Free Press, we should make the nomination without hesitation—and possibly the Managing

"INASMUCH"

During this month the Lord Christ's Mass
Will our devotions strongly stir;
When we shall make (too rare, alas)
Our gifts of frankincense and myrrh.
There never was a needier time
In this old world, since time began,
For man to show the sense sublime
Kind sympathy for his brother man.
Think you not that the noblest heart
That ever beat in human breast
Will sacrifice what little part
You sacrifice from your own feast?
To feed the hungry, help distress,
And make this coming Christmas tide
A time when hands shall lift to bless
You and the dear ones by your side.

For He who notes the sparrow's fall
And hears the widows as they pray,
Who once lay in a stable stall,

(13) No member of the Civil Service to be given any other remuneration or public funds nor to engage in private business.

(14) All salaries and pensions to be thoroughly scrutinized for the purpose of readjustment. This clause applies to all members of the House, ministers, department heads and all government pensions."

"A STATIONARY EARTH"

December 1. Mr. John Speers, of the Bedford Level in England that is a myth. But delusion is not argument, and that, impregnable proof will still be obtainable when the Copernican world is forgotten. Let me make that proof made in England with one made in Canada. One of the prominent engineers on this continent experimented for months on La Grande Pointe and found that the Copernican curvature did not exist. And if Mr. Speers should desire to consult that authority in Toronto, I shall be glad to furnish him with an introduction. An interview would do him good. Mr. Speers writes thus: If the earth were flat a ship would sail away and never come back, and the sun would move away and never return. Has he never heard of circles? In circumnavigation the north centre is sailed round just as an island is sailed round. The procedure is precisely the same. And the sun does come back because he moves in plane circles above the plane earth. Regarding the rim of the earth circle, I have already explained that it is beyond human reach and is hidden in outer darkness. Regarding the earth's foundation, it is written (Jeremiah xxxi, 37): "Thus saith the Lord, If heaven above can be measured and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they have done, saith the Lord." This Scripture means that the foundations of the earth are also out of reach of human exploration. They are thrust downward like the under structure of an iceberg, the earth floating on the great deep like an anchored raft. Job xxviii, 6: "Whereupon are the foundations thereof set so deep?" That is the Hebrew; see margin. The Scriptural heavens and earth are before us in grim majesty compared with the trumpery Copernican world.

Letters to the Editor

Editor of the Colonist: We are interested in the article on the subject of the "Government Reform" in your issue of December 4, 1931.

"GOVERNMENT REFORM"

Sir,—Our thanks are due to you for your very fair report of our meeting last night. If you can see your way clear to publish the enclosed programme as printed, and unanimously approved at the meeting, we should be doubly in your debt.
T. GUY SHEPPARD,
818 Trounce Alley, Victoria, B.C.,
December 4, 1931.

"The party system in provincial politics continues to demonstrate its complete inability to deal with the increasingly serious economic conditions of the Province, and the and unjustifiable expenditures are bringing the Province to the verge of bankruptcy. Tardy economies and restrictions fail to strike at the root of the evil, which, we are convinced, is the system itself. From knowledge gained, and in conformity with the approval of a large proportion of the British Columbia electorate, the Government Reform Movement therefore deem it advisable to define and strengthen the platform suggested in the original pamphlet issued last May.

It should be clearly understood that none of the original principles are in any way departed from, but are hereby amplified and made definite. NO RETURN OF PAIN
There may be no such thing as a miracle, but just try to convince Mr. Geo. H. Leaman of this. Nine or ten years ago, he had a terrible attack of Sciatic Rheumatism. Despite all kinds of treatment he suffered excruciating pain and became so twisted out of shape, so badly so that it was decided to try and straighten his poor arms and legs by a system of ropes, pulleys and weights.

"They never had to be used," he says. "Just a few days before, a relative in Toronto sent me a box of T-R-C's. From the first box I got relief. After three more boxes for a few weeks, I found the pain had left me. My arms and legs gradually straightened out. Anyone on seeing me now would not believe I had been so terribly laid up with Rheumatism."

Deep-rooted, stubborn cases of Rheumatism require patient and correct use of time require patient and correct use of time require patient and correct use of time.

Mothers, Mix This
At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough due to a cold. It takes but a moment to mix, costs little, and saves money, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugist. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The 16 ounces thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the congested phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and then helps inwardly to clear the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of eucalyptol, in a refined, pleasant form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Without stopping to remove his clothing, seventy-year-old Charles D. Thompson jumped into the sea at Southsea, England, and saved a life. He also lost, would have conceded defeat, but not so South.

South led the second round of hearts and his fears as to the trump situation were confirmed. West failed to follow and South now led a club, taking the essential finesse in that suit. If this won, all that was necessary would be to concede the king of hearts and South's contract was made. However, East won the trick with the king and returned a diamond. South won and led another club, taking in the dummy with the ace. Now the queen of clubs was led and South proceeded to show the way to catch a well guarded king.

He trumped the trick, although North's card was high. The dummy was re-entered with a spade honor, and another good club was led and trumped. South now led his last spade, and when East followed his troubles were over. Another club was led from dummy, but nothing could now save East's king. To trump would be to permit South to overtrump and then pick up the king with the ace. East saw he was in a vice from which there was no escape, due to South's accurate play.

The double grand coup had again been successfully achieved.

TODAY'S POINTER
Question—Why is it advisable to open with a suit bid, if possible? Answer—It gives partner a more definite picture of the bidder's hand and he can more readily determine the strength of the combined hands.

The Only Thing
that Gave Relief

"Two years ago I had had backache," writes Mr. J. G. Haffner, Aylesbury, Sask. "I tried different medicines but couldn't get any relief. I then tried a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have never had any trouble since. Thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills strengthen weak kidneys, remove poisons, and give you back your health. You will be surprised how soon they begin to cleanse and purify, to soothe and heal the kidneys, at the same time, backache, rheumatism, and all ailments due to faulty kidneys disappear.

GALLANT CAREER ENDED BY DEATH

Lieut.-Col. I. H. Price, Brother of Victoria Physician, Dies in England

Dr. A. G. Price, former medical health officer for Victoria, has received word of the death, in England, of his brother, Lieut.-Colonel Ivon H. Price, D.S.O., a noted soldier, and one who served his country nobly during the troublous war years.

Of his death a correspondent to The London Times says:

"The death of a very gallant gentleman, Lieut.-Colonel Ivon H. Price, D.S.O., was briefly recorded in The Times last week. Ivon Henry Price was the sixth son of the late James Price, of Knockeween, Greystones, County Wicklow, a distinguished member of the Institution of Civil Engineers of Ireland, and after a sound general education graduated in law at Trinity College, Dublin, taking the degree of LL.D. He then entered the Royal Irish Constabulary as a cadet and remained to give more than thirty years of his services very immediately sought by the military authorities for the post of chief intelligence officer, Irish Command, in the troublesome times of the war and the Irish Rebellion of 1916. Price held his post with conspicuous success and was a tower of strength to the authorities in Ireland."

His evidence before the commission, presided over by Lord Harcourt, appointed to inquire into the events leading up to the rebellion was a masterpiece of lucid information and knowledge of his subject, and he was awarded the D.S.O. for his sterling work both before and during the rising. Together with Sir John Maxwell, then G.O.C. in Ireland, he was bitterly attacked in Parliament for over two years by the Irish Nationalist members, and his recall repeatedly demanded.

Early in 1919 he relinquished his position at the Irish Command and returned to the R.I.C. as county inspector, being given the special honor of a lieutenant-colonel's colonelcy. Early in 1920 he was appointed Assistant Inspector-General of the Royal Irish Constabulary at Dublin Castle, a post which he held until the disbandment of that historic force in 1922. He was straight as a die, just, a thorough sportsman, and a Christian gentleman in all respects, and even those opposed to the regime in Ireland which he represented never doubted his sincerity and held him in the highest regard.

"Colonel Price married, early in his career, Mary Emily, eldest daughter of Sir John Maxwell, D.S.O., of Dundrum, County Dublin, and had six sons and two daughters. His wife, who survives him, was a constant supporter during those dark days in Ireland preceding the "Truce," and she made his home a haven of happiness and Christian upbringings for her children."

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

CAPTURING A KING
Unfavorable distribution defeats many apparently safe contracts at bridge. Often, however, unfavorable distribution can be defeated and the player triumphantly fulfills his contract in the early stages of the play. The thought and consideration to the play that too often is delayed until the post mortem is held over a dead and disappointing hand.

If fair play was unkind in the distribution, it may be just her way of showing favor. Frequently it is a means of getting added pleasure out of the play, because a player who meets and copes successfully with unusual situations reaps a reward in satisfaction that can never come to the mere player of aces and kings.

Hon. S. P. Tolmie, accompanied by Mrs. Fraser Tolmie, officiated at the opening of the Lake Hill Country Fair on Wednesday afternoon and evening, at which the sum of $350 was raised for the gymnasium building fund. Dr. Tolmie congratulated the members upon their enterprise in supplying a gymnasium for the young people of the district, and wished them every success in the work. The hall had been decorated for the occasion with evergreens and Christmas wreaths, and presented a festive appearance. A large number of visitors attended in the afternoon and the hall was thronged for the dance during the evening. In the afternoon Miss Betty Townsend contributed a dance number which was much enjoyed.

Q—"You are always in the police court, County Court, Criminal Court, and Assize Court, where I have so often seen you. Do you get paid for it?"

A—"Perhaps I am as well occupied doing that as anything else."

Q—"I suppose you bought this exhibit?" (Picks ticket.)

A—"No."

Q—"You have bought one like it?"

A—"Yes."

Q—"Have you laid information against yourself under the Criminal Code for buying it?"

A—"No."

Q—"Are you going to lay a charge against yourself?"

A—"If you think you can charge me, you are at liberty to do so."

"But I am not in that line of business like you are. You are, of course," Mr. Bullock-Webster replied.

Prior to this cross-examination, Mr. C. Lowe, prosecutor, asked Mr. Harris to identify the witness W. H. Mearns, officials of the association.

NOVEL IDENTIFICATION

Mr. Harris, on showing some hesitancy, was advised by defence counsel to shake hands with Mr. Mearns and Mr. Whyte, but Mr. Harris declined. The witness had some difficulty in identifying the officials, but eventually did so.

At the opening of the proceedings, Mr. Bullock-Webster objected to the manner in which the summons had been written, contending that he was present to appear for the British Columbia Agricultural Association, and that no charge had been laid against the organization. Mr. Lowe agreed to amend the complaint so that everything would be in order.

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, took the witness stand and produced documents pertaining to the leasing of city property at the Willows for exhibition purpose.

SECURES ADVICE

Chief of Police Thomas Heatley gave evidence that he had received letters from H. S. Pringle and the law firm of Elliott, Macleod, and Shandley touching upon the legality of the sale of tickets which were to be drawn to decide winners of prizes. On the advice given in these letters he had not taken steps to stop the sale of tickets, he said.

Mr. H. O. Garrett, registrar of companies for the Provincial Government, submitted documents of incorporation and a list of the board of directors of the association.

When Mr. Lowe called Alderman H. O. Litchfield as a witness, his testimony was objected to by counsel for the defence on the grounds that as Alderman Litchfield was a defendant he could not be expected to give evidence that would convict him and the association of which he was director of an offence for which he was liable to a fine of $2,000. Mr. Lowe offered precedents to show that directors of companies had given evidence in cases where the charge was laid against the companies, of which they were directors.

Magistrate Jay advised both counsel to bring in cases of precedent at a later date, but the decision to commit the case for trial obviated the necessity. Because E. M. Whyte and W. H. Mearns were in the same position as Alderman Litchfield, they were not called to testify.

ELEPHANTS IN BATTLE

Elephants won a battle between a crowd of young men and employees of Duff's Circus at Bellefleur, Irish Free State, recently. The youths attacked the tents at midnight, and the circus horses were stampeded. Government Civil Guards were called, but the youths were winning when the circus proprietor led two of his performing elephants in a sortie through an adjoining street. He surprised the attackers, who fled. Several persons were injured in the battle.

SCOUT TOY SHOP TO DO GOOD WORK

Repair Depot Will Supply Children of Needy Families With Christmas Toys

Boy Scouts of Victoria will again this year carry out a campaign to assist the needy families of the city at Christmas time, and bring happiness to the youngsters of these families which are not fortunate enough to look forward to an enjoyable Yuletide season. The plan this year is to have a Boy Scouts' toy depot in the former office of the Stobie-Porling Company, on Government Street.

In this workshop members of various city troops are to be employed daily repairing broken toys, which will be made to look like new and distributed around Christmas. As the needs for assistance is greater with many families this year, officers of the Victoria Scout Association are making an urgent appeal to the citizens to support them in their move to supply poor children with toys.

In many homes of the city a number of toys lie broken, forgotten by their owners, which will probably never be used again. It is these that the scouts want. It is asked that anybody having old toys lying around the house bring them in to the workshop, and by doing so make some less fortunate child happy for Christmas.

The plan for a toy shop is Dominion-wide, and Scouts in all other cities throughout Canada are establishing these depots, where they will spend time daily, repairing and painting broken toys. Such a move, for such a worthy cause, cannot fail to bring a satisfactory response, and it is felt that there will be little difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of toys to keep the workmen busy.

CHICKEN DINNER SERVED TONIGHT

The second day of the Catholic Women's League annual bazaar attracted a large crowd yesterday afternoon and evening and the stalls with their tempting displays drew many purchasers. The sale will continue today, and this evening's attraction is a special hot chicken dinner, for which Mrs. Hartnell and her committee are making elaborate plans.

The evening of prizes will be a feature of this evening, and a number of handsome gifts are awaiting the winners.

After whist, came the banquet, which was provided by the local Native Daughters, and was under the supervision of Chief Factor A. Goodall and a committee consisting of Messrs. Indian Christians Make Big Advance Since Last Census

Population Increased 36.6 Per Cent as Compared With General Gain of 10.6 Per Cent—Outlook Held Hopeful

DESPITE the intense nationalist propaganda in India, which puts obstacles in the way of Christian missionaries, it is worthy of note that in the last decade the Christian population has recorded an increase of 32.6 per cent, while the general rate of increase was only 10.6 per cent.

This is the statement of the revised figures of the last census as published recently by The Gazette of India. These figures show that the total population of India is 332,086,818, an increase in ten years of 34,443,396, or more than three times the population of Canada.

According to religions, there are 238,230,917 Hindus, 77,745,928 Moslems, and 6,961,794 Christians, an increase in ten years of 1,464,836. Of the Christian population, the Roman Catholics number approximately 2,150,000, according to The Catholic Record. The Madras Presidency has the largest number of Christians, 1,770,398, one in twenty-seven of its people being a Christian. Assam comes next with one in forty-three and Punjab and Beluchistan follow with one in fifty-eight.

OUTLOOK IS HOPEFUL
Rev. Dr. Stanley E. Jones, the well known evangelist in India, in reviewing his past twelfth month conditions it was "the finest, deepest and best year he had ever spent in India." His experience was that Christ occupies a very high place in educated India. He himself had many opportunities of religious conversation with the Maharajahs of Western India and found them most interested. The Prime Minister of a native state in the course of an interview said: "My Modern religion is gone. It has been killed by the backwardness of the followers of Islam." Dr. Jones had a series of meetings at Baroda, where the Maharajah, with three hundred of his officials, attended a "command" lecture. "I had literally the whole state before me," writes Dr. Jones. "For an hour and a half I spoke on the Sermon on the Mount. The Gaekwar was deeply moved. I am trying to live some of the things you have been

REV. A. GRIEVE TO REMAIN FOR WEEK

Vancouver Pastor Will Raise Question of Recurrence of Great Revival of 1859

"Prophecies Fulfilled Since 1914: How Do These Prove Christ's Coming to Be Very Near?" will be the challenging subject at the Central Baptist Church on Sunday evening, when the visiting evangelist, Rev. Andrew Grieve, will speak on this prophetic topic of up-to-the-minute interest. Mr. Grieve has been a student of prophecy for many years and has preached far and wide on the prophetic Scriptures in their bearing on current world happenings.

At the morning service Mr. Grieve will speak on a subject which has been a question mark in the minds of thousands of Christians everywhere, viz., "Can the Pentecostal Revival of '59 be repeated in 1931-32?"

During the past week Mr. Grieve has brought timely, challenging evangelistic messages which have been much appreciated by all. These revival services will continue throughout the coming week at 8 o'clock. Christians are urged to bring their friends and pray for God's blessing on this effort.

India Will Repay for The Gospel

As a return in a measure for the gift to India of the Christian gospel by the British churches, the visit of an Indian to Britain next Autumn is being anticipated with great interest by missionary leaders.

The visit arises out of a proposal at the Jerusalem meeting of the International Missionary Council in 1928, that leaders of the younger Christian churches in India, China and the East, should come to share with the rank and file of the Christian church in the West their Christian witness and experience.

It is hoped that the visitors, whose traveling expenses to Britain will be borne by the Indian Church, will consist of a party of four or five, of whom will be a woman, and that it will be led by the Bishop of Dornakal, Dr. Azariah. The visit, which will last for three months, will not concern itself with political matters or missionary policy.

The parallel will, no doubt, be drawn between the personality of Bishop Azariah, for example, as the product of Christian missions to India, and of Dr. Toyokuni Kagawa, of Japan, of whom one speaker said during his recent visit to Canada, that this one man in himself was justification, if that were required, for the cost of missions in that country.

Rev. C. E. Silcox, who will preach at the First United Church tomorrow morning, is spending a day or two in the city as representative of the Bureau of Religious Research of New York City, which operates under the Rockefeller Foundation. Mr. Silcox was deputized about a year ago to make a study of the Church Union which took place in 1925 between the Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists of Canada. In this connection he is visiting British Columbia. He is Canadian-born, being the son of Rev. E. D. Silcox, former editor of The Canadian Congregationalist, and nephew of Rev. Dr. J. B. Silcox, whose sermons were on the air while he supplied the First Congregational Church, Vancouver, some years ago.

The Canadian Churchman, of Toronto, extends its congratulations in this week's issue to Bishop Schofield, as having been consecrated to his episcopal office on December 1, 1931, thus completing fifteen years as fifth Bishop of Columbia.

Rev. Dr. E. H. Oliver, Moderator of the United Church, is expected to pay a visit to the Western conferences during January, in the course of which he will speak in Victoria.

Will J. Green, secretary of the Gleasons, has arranged a Bible dedication service tomorrow evening at the Vancouver Hotel in Vancouver, similar to that which was held last Sunday evening at the Empress.

Completes Fifteen Years

As the result of a teaching mission on spiritual healing conducted by Rev. T. E. Rowe, of this city, warden of the Canadian Guild of Health, a local branch will shortly be formed in Toronto, according to The Canadian Churchman.

The meetings were held from October 25 to 30 in the Church of St. Simon, at the invitation of Rev. F. H. Brewin, Mr. Rowe having been duly commissioned by the Lord Bishop of the diocese at a previous service in the Cathedral of St. Alban the Martyr.

There has not been an organized branch in Toronto, although a prayer circle has been meeting weekly in the chapel of St. Barnabas Church. The services conducted by the warden are characterized as having a "deeply spiritual atmosphere," and his addresses are marked by "a scholarly and dignified manner."

ADVENT WILL BE ST. JOHN'S TOPIC

The services at St. John's Church will be Holy Communion at 10 o'clock, Morning Prayer and Holy Communion at 11, and Evensong at 7:30. The rector, Rev. Canon F. A. Chadwick, will continue his Advent series of sermons on Sunday mornings, the subject for this Sunday being "The Bible and the Coming of Christ." The preacher at the evening service will be Rev. A. Gardiner.

The Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock, and the Anglican Young People's Association Bible class will meet at 2:30. On Wednesday evening there will be service at 8 o'clock in the evening.

More Food Being Sent To Prairies

The Presbyterian headquarters, according to The Presbyterian Record, have thus far been able to respond to every call for food and have sent carloads of provisions and many tons of clothing to the needy districts on the Prairie. Heavy shipments have also been made from other points and supplies are still pouring in. The money solicited by Rev. Dr. Grant, the superintendent of missions, is likely to be entirely provided.

The relief work for Saskatchewan of the United Church has swung northward, states a Toronto bulletin, and supplies of fruit and vegetables and shipments of clothing are being sent into the country north of Prince Albert. Under the plan of assistance with home mission funds, fifty-one churches have been adopted by Eastern congregations to the extent of the emergency grant for 1931.

Building activity in Czechoslovakia is increasing.

UNEMPLOYMENT SERMON SUBJECT

Dr. Davies Has Striking Evening Topic—Dramatize at Morning Service

Dr. Clem Davies has chosen a striking subject for his sermon theme on Sunday evening, entitled, "Christ and the Unemployed." He will discuss the topic under the following heads: "Where is the money coming from?" "Are relief works wasteful?" "Does a woman have a right to work?" "How would Jesus solve the work problem?" "Where is the money coming from?" "Are relief works wasteful?"

At the morning hour of worship Dr. Davies will have as his theme, "The Meaning of Life." There will also be a dramatization, entitled "A Barber's Religion." Miss Eileen Bennett, mezzo-soprano, will sing the morning service. At the evening service, following a concert prelude by the newly organized City Temple orchestra from 7 to 7:30 o'clock, the choir will be heard in the anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord," with Frank H. New York and Vancouver Men Will Give Important Addresses Sunday

Tomorrow will be a notable day at First United Church. At the morning service the guest preacher will be Rev. C. E. Silcox, of New York City, son of the late Rev. E. D. Silcox and nephew of Rev. Dr. J. B. Silcox, who has held some of the more important pulpits in Canada and the United States. Mr. Silcox is visiting British Columbia in the interests of the Bureau of Religious Research of New York.

In the afternoon about eighty or ninety men of the First Church will visit the homes of the congregations in connection with the annual every person canvass for the local and missionary budget of the church. This plan of soliciting the co-operation of members and adherents has been followed for several years and proved highly successful.

The evening service will be an open meeting in charge of the young people of the congregation, at which George Gordon, president of the Young People's Society, will preside. A Vancouver young people's leader, Oscar Lundell, B.A., will give an address. Mr. Lundell has been a promoter of young people's interests in the "Terminal City" and is a good speaker.

Deegan (Clearhue & Stralath); John Rose (C. W. Bradshaw) vs. A. W. Curtis, J. R. Curran, Hurst and Hurst (Arthur J. Patton).

Just Roamin' Around

"No doubt some men are born great," said I, to Rover, who scratched an attentive ear, "and some achieve greatness." I added, then, as my chum looked at me expectantly, prepared to hear me conclude the old saw, I disappointed him with: "And others simply grate upon one!"

"That is so, Master! I've noticed it myself. And particularly that blighter who dalkies children. He seems to grate gratuitously upon you."

"Yes, Rover, you're right. He annoys me. He is supercilious to a superlative degree; and when it comes to sneering at the efforts made by the very young to imitate their elders, in which they do certainly excel in bettering the more ancient, he exasperates me beyond endurance with his superabundance of superior airs."

"Princed, I was dialling on the manifold talents of the majority of the youngsters of today, as compared with what was thought to be ultra clever in the youth of fifty years ago (for I know that, when I was a kiddie, what was considered chic in a child would be only mediocre today), when he piped in with: 'But, Mr. Rover, you surely don't mean that any children are clever, do you? My word!'"

"I could have 'my-worded' him with pleasure; but, what's the use? There are so many talented youngsters here in Victoria that even in my limited acquaintance I could name a goodly number."

"One little fairy, who is a particular chum of mine, dances like a professional, and yet her years are not more than thirteen; while another, who is a genuine polliwig, has musical ability of an advanced kind; and a third, a human pansy, has a distinct flair for art, if she will but work at it; and so it goes, dozens of them!"

"At a recent party, to which both Rover and I were kindly invited, the place cards on the supper table were most attractive, neatly and artistically executed, and by a youngster, a daughter of the house, and (twice)!"

"Wherever Rover and I go we seem to find talented youngsters, to whom we have dedicated the following lines: PERSERVERE! Keep up your studies, youngsters dear! Love out-of-doors, when sunset's near! Your future I cannot foretell, But, this I know and know full well, That, if you work and persevere, So great will be your guerdon, here, All cares and pains will disappear: Prosperity—your name will spell—Keep up your studies, youngsters dear!"

"If all your words be heart-sincere, Then, no misfortune need you fear! In what is well-worth-while excel; For, you yourself your Good compel. You are the carver of your sphere: You are your own life's Engineer! Keep up your studies, youngsters dear!"

Japan has started a campaign to teach little girls to dance.

Regina Roughriders and Wheelers All Set for Canadian Rugby Final

Differences Over Naming Officials Amicably Settled

Rugby Union Remains Firm in Appointment of Howie Milne as Umpire—Change in Head Linesman Made—Squads Put Through Final Light Workouts

Teams at Top Strength for Struggle

MONTREAL, Dec. 4 (CP).—Compromise between the Montreal Football Club and the Canadian Rugby Union on the question of the referees for tomorrow's senior Dominion championship final was reached tonight and Winged Wheelers, Eastern titlists, and Regina Roughriders, Western representatives, will start the battle for the Canadian football crown at 2:15 p.m. on the McGill Stadium grounds. Joe O'Brien will referee; Howie Milne, of Regina, will umpire, and Tom Barton will act as head linesman.

The Canadian Rugby Union remained steadfast to its selection of Milne as umpire—the choice that the Wheelers' officials have opposed since the announcement of his appointment was made. But the Canadian Rugby Union conceded a point in withdrawing Harry Batstone, Queen's University coach, whom the Wheelers also objected to on the grounds that he was not a regular referee in football, as head linesman, and naming Tom Barton, intercollegiate official, in Batstone's stead.

Roughriders arrived this morning. To straighten out cramped muscles after the long train ride from Regina, Coach Al Ritchie took his players up to the McGill soccer field for a workout before noon. The drill lasted for about an hour and the Regina men, a formidable-looking band of big men, a world of good.

STANDARD TO CLASH WITH J.B. CAGERS

Laundry Women Will Face J.B.A.A. in Feature Game at "Y" Gym Tonight

SONS OF CANADA TO MEET KEATING

With a victory needed to keep them in the running for the first half honors, Standard Steam Laundry's fair sex squad of cagers will field their strongest line-up with hopes of taking the measure of the J.B.A.A. girls in the feature tussle on the Victoria and District Basketball League's program this evening at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. Y.M.C.A. will face Manager Bill Kersey and his Slingers aggregation in the interlocking attraction in the interlocking "A" section, while Sons of Canada will provide the opposition for Keating in the third game in the men's senior "B" division. The initial fixture will start at 7:30 o'clock, with Tommy Macleod in charge.

J.B.A.A. women are confident of scoring a victory over the Laundry girls, as they took them into camp last week at the Gorge gym in an exhibition affair by a large margin. With both quintettes at full strength one of the closest checking games of the season should result.

The curtain raiser is expected to furnish plenty of exciting moments for the spectators, as both the "Y" and Slingers are running back and neck for second berth and will be after a win. Strengthened by the addition of two veterans, Bob Whyte and Ernie Harwood, Sons are confident of taking Keating cagers for a ride.

ESQUIMALT TRIMS CHINESE HOOPMEN

Esquimalt won a fast intermediate fixture of the Sunday School Basketball League last night at the Chinese Presbyterian Church gymnasium from the Chinese team, 23-20. At the interval Chinese led 17-13, but the Esquimalt lads came back strong in the second half. Wilkinson scored a fine game for the winners, scoring sixteen points. P. Chan led the losers with eight. Jack Taylor refereed and the teams were:

Esquimalt—C. Stewart (1), R. Jackson (2), Wilkinson (16), J. Davies (3), H. Thompson (4). Chinese Presbyterian—Tim Bak (3), C. Lam (2), A. Chan (2), J. Lee (3), L. Chan, S. Leung (2), P. Chan (8).

During a big football match one of the spectators perished in making uncomplimentary remarks in a rather loud voice about the referee. At last the referee went up to the fellow and said:

"My man, I've been watching you carefully for at least twenty minutes."

Interrupting him, the spectator retorted: "I'm not surprised, I could see you were not watching the play."

LIMITING OF SALARIES TO BE OPPOSED

Colonel Ruppert Says Owners Should Have Right to Decide Pay

BIG MEETING SET FOR NEXT WEEK

WEST BADEN, Ind., Dec. 4 (AP).—Baseball's spotlight tonight lifted from this Hoosier state to Chicago, where the next big act of the national pastime, the annual conference of the major leagues, will be staged.

Every major league club admitted it was dicker for deals and that it hoped to complete them, in Chicago. The Chicago Cubs were known to be ready to complete probably the largest trade or sale of them all, while the New York Yanks still talked about a trade with Chicago's White Sox involving pitcher Vic Frazier, young White Sox star, and the veteran Tony Lazzeri.

Colonel Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, was reported to be important huddle with Babe Ruth and positive that he would not give the big fellow another contract of two years called for $50,000 annually. However, he said he would fight the proposal to establish a salary limit in the major leagues was privileged to each club owner was privileged to pay what he pleased.

Alpine—Miss Alpine Blitch, of Miami, the Florida Fat Girl, is known as the "World's Fattest Lady." Alpine weighed two hundred pounds at the age of three, four hundred at the age of twelve, and even gained three pounds while ill with whooping cough. At present she tips the scales at 732 pounds, although she is only thirty years old. The most remarkable thing about Alpine is that she has no double chin, despite her weight.

CANINES TO BE SHOWN TONIGHT

City Kennel Club to Hold Parlor Show This Evening in Film-Lexy's Garage

Canines of all species will be bunched at the Victoria City Kennel Club's parlor show this evening at Thomas Pilmley's garage, 1015 Yates Street. Final plans were completed yesterday by the committee, and indications point to one of the largest entry lists in the history of the organization.

Two officials will receive entries at the door from 7 to 8 o'clock, and the judging will get under way as soon as possible.

The large floor space of the show-room allows ample accommodation for a spacious judging ring, while the excellent lighting facilities make it an ideal place both for exhibits and spectators.

W. C. C. Burns, of Sidney, well-known judge and fancier, will be in charge of the judging and will start with the toy varieties. Burns recently was granted his all-round judging licence by the Canadian Kennel Club. Following the opening contest, J. W. Creighton, local expert, will judge the Cocker spaniels. With such men in charge, exhibitors are assured of expert opinion on their dogs.

WRIGHT ADVANTAGE

The lads from the Naval Barracks will have a decided advantage in weight. Their three-quarter line is experienced than the gunners and has some good ball hands, while their forwards are full of determination once they start an offensive. The 5th's three-quarter line is fast, but it lacks experience, while their forwards are on a par with their opponents.

The Scottish-J.B.A.A. fixture at Oak Bay is expected to be a closely fought battle. On paper the troops look stronger than their ancient rivals, and are favored to win. A win for the soldiers will give them second berth in the first half standing, while a decision for the oarsmen will put them well up. Scottish's line-up will be, Bryden, Hunning, Turgoose, Northington, Horne, Robson, Henderson, Pollard, B. Forbes, Wharton, Lamb, Osmund, Rowlands, C. Forbes and G. Wenman. The Bays are fielding their usual hard-working squad and are confident of coping the troops.

Only one intermediate fixture is scheduled, the 5th Brigade clashing with the J.B.A.A. at the Canteen grounds, Brentwood College, on journey to Shawigan Lake for an exhibition game with the Up-Island school fifteen.

5th Brigade seniors will be as follows: McInnes, Skilling, Bellis, Harold Engelson, Weaver, Robinson, David Gaunt, Warnock, Slevens, Doell, Rasmussen, M. Patrick, Bob Engelson, Buller and Cox. Players are asked to be at the Armories at 2 o'clock.

5th Brigade intermediates follow: Scott, Aymer, Alex Gaunt, Phillip, Holmes, Garif, Monk, McLean, Graham, Archer, Campbell-Hunter.

The above team has been chosen only from players who will be able to make the trip to Japan, and is not a McKechnie Cup squad. Vancouver Awarded 1932 Olympic Track And Field Meeting

Amateur Dukes Refuse to Refute Motion Passed Year Ago Giving Terminal City Trials—Former Pros to Be Allowed to Coach Amateurs

WINNIPEG, Dec. 4 (CP).—Canada's Olympic committee today assumed full control of the Dominion's activities in the Los Angeles and Lake Placid games—but conceded to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada the right to choose a venue for the track and field trials.

M. M. (Bobby) Robinson, secretary of the committee, asked the annual meeting of the A.A.U. of C. late today to designate the duties of the group appointed to control this country's Olympic teams, and was assured that no obstacles would be placed in the way of the committee.

But delegates refused to restate a motion passed a year ago that track and field trials be held at Vancouver, and left the Olympic committee no choice in this matter. Mr. Robinson requested that duties of his committee be clearly outlined so that it could proceed without further sanction of the national organization.

VANCOUVER CHOICE

Before going on record as granting the Olympic committee full power in choosing Canada's teams for the Olympics, the convention approved the choice of Vancouver for the trials, unanimously passing a motion by H. W. Colgan, of the British Columbia branch. Mr. Robinson, veteran sportsman of Hamilton and manager of the Canadian Olympic track team in 1928, said plans were well advanced for the sending of athletes to the Olympic Winter games at Lake Placid, N.Y.

Defending Champ Defeats Mitchell In Straight Sets

Last Year's Titleholder Retains City Title by 15-2, 15-13 Victory—Miss Marjorie Benson De-thrones Miss Mona Miller in Women's Final in Decisive Fashion

Hincks and Mitchell Take Doubles

Displaying a brand of badminton which should carry her a long way in quest of the Vancouver Island title, which will be up for competition early in the new year, Miss Marjorie Benson, young racket wielder bearing the colors of the Willows Club, topped Miss Mona Miller from her throne in the women's singles final in the city championships last night at the Willows by scoring a straight set victory before a large crowd, 15-2, 15-13. Miss Miller's defeat came as a mild surprise to the majority, as she was favored to retain her crown.

Drennan Hincks retained his singles honors at the expense of the Brentwood College youngster, F. G. Mitchell, after a great exhibition, 15-2, 15-13. Hincks was a tired player when he stepped on the court to face young Mitchell, but he managed to win out in straight sets, the second of which was a thriller.

lured the mixed doubles honors from Miss Morley and R. A. Phillips after another close battle. The players received great applause from the gallery during the match as they executed some marvelous recoveries.

Major Holmes and Major Gibson won the men's handicap doubles from Watson and Bagley, 9-15, 15-10, 15-13, while Miss Errington and Webb walked off with the mixed handicap doubles by their win over Miss M. Campbell and Miss J. Campbell, 15-12, 15-10, 15-10. The trophy donated by Major Cuthbert Holmes for the veteran's handicap doubles was won by Major Chambers and Major Hunter when they won from Colonel Worsley and Colonel Phillips, 15-12, 15-12.

Noel Radford, Duncan, runner-up to Jack Purcell for the Canadian championship last year, and Eric Leney, Island champion, played an exhibition match after the final.

PRIZES PRESENTED

Following the finals, Mrs. Phillips, wife of Colonel Phillips, president of the Willows Club, presented the various awards to the winners. Mrs. Phillips was presented with a beautiful bouquet by the committee, after which Colonel Phillips made a brief speech, thanking the executive for its work in making the tournament such a success.

Miss Benson started off at a fast and furious pace against Miss Miller. The Willows' player gained a fine lead in the early stages of the first set. She shot over a flurry of rife services and placements to capture the set at 11-7. Miss Miller showed no sign of the championship form but could not cope with the brilliant playing of her opponent. Sensing victory, Miss Benson continued her march to the title by flashing speed and accuracy across to win the match and second set in short time at 11-2. One of the features of the new champion's victory was her fine drives from the back court. Close to the net she proved to be Miss Miller's master and well deserved her win.

Although visibly tired at the beginning of the match, Drennan Hincks took advantage of his young opponent's misdeeds and jumped into an 8-1 lead soon after the initial session started. Hincks finally won the set at 15-2. Mitchell went out to win the next set to even the count and was leading Hincks at 9-1. The youngster was rapidly tiring his more experienced opponent as the set progressed. From then on Hincks settled down and rallied to go out in front at 8-7. Mitchell retaliated and deadlocked the score at 13-13. After a great exchange of drives, Hincks managed to put over the needed points to retain his laurels.

SECOND VICTORY

Hincks figured in his second crown when he teamed with Mitchell to win the men's doubles title by defeating J. P. and L. A. Phillips in straight sets, 15-8, 15-11. The Phillips brothers were defending their crown and fought gallantly in an effort to retain it. Mrs. MacDonald and Miss Morley played well together to win the women's open honors from Misses J. Nicholson and Miss Pitts, 15-8, 15-7. The winners were superior throughout both sets. Winning the first set at 15-12 and then romping through the second to a 15-13 decision, Miss Mona Miller and Drennan Hincks captured

Security Prices Are Erratic on New York Mart

WHEAT CLIMBS ANOTHER CENT

Stock Trading Dull On Eastern Markets; Mine Issues Active

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP).—The stock market paid more attention to rumors than to fact today—a not unusual occurrence—and prices reacted swiftly in the last hour, only to reduce their losses as shorts utilized the final minutes of repurchasing.

The early trading built up net gains of 1 to 3 points, presumably because speculators felt a more favorable view of railroad financial problems was justified.

The rumor most frequently mentioned was that Germany was to suspend the gold standard; it was denied abroad and here, yet selling gained momentum and numerous sharp breaks occurred before the decline was checked.

American Gas was the outstanding air pocket, breaking half a dozen points and closing 4 lower. U.S. Steel touched 51, a new minimum, before moving back to 51 1/2, where the net loss was 1 7/8. Westinghouse, American Telephone, Loew's, General Foods, Western Union, Allied Chemical, Consolidated Gas, Santa Fe, Paramount, New Haven, New York Central, National Biscuit and Bethlehem ranged from 1 to 3 down, although final prices averaged considerably above the bottom in most instances. Union Pacific fluctuated, finishing with a small loss. The Pacific preferred issues were weak.

Sales amounted to 1,921,104 shares. An interesting event of the financial day was the withdrawal of $250,000 in gold for shipment to France coincident with strength of the franc against dollars. A thin bond market, with many investors standing on the sidelines waiting for bigger and better bargains, witnessed prices duplicate their advance of the past several sessions. The sales totaled $12,000,000, or more than $2,000,000 under yesterday.

RALPH LYNN IS
STAR AT EMPIRE

Famous British Comedian Appears in "The Chance of a Night Time," Opening Today

It is very pleasant to record that at least one British film actor in British films is beginning to mean something to cinema-goers, and that he has a name they are now associating with good, clean fun, in well-produced films. Better known to London theatregoers, where he has played for years at the Aldwych Theatre in a series of successful farces, it was the advent of "talkies" that gave him his chance on the screen.

The British and Dominion Film Corporation contracted with Tom Walls to film a number of the Aldwych comedies. "Rookery Nook" set the ball rolling and immediately placed Ralph Lynn in the list of "box-office attractions." "Plunder" and "Tons of Money" followed, and although these films have not been generally released throughout the country, they proved enormously successful when shown in London.

Ralph Lynn is now showing at the Empire Theatre in "Chance of a Night Time."

ZANE GREY TALE
TO OPEN TODAY

"Riders of the Purple Sage" Starring George O'Brien and Noah
Beery, at Dominion

Noah Beery, the man who has thwarted the careers and interfered in the love affairs of more cinema heroes than could be computed without the assistance of an adding machine, and whose latest assignment is to furnish the opposition to George O'Brien in the Fox Western romance, "Riders of the Purple Sage," coming today to the Dominion Theatre, is one actor at least who is opposed to the excessive realism favored by numerous picture theorists.

"Naturalism is all very well, and I am heartily in favor of that school of acting," says Beery, "but not to the extent of letting it interfere with the portrayal of character."

In "Riders of the Purple Sage," which was adapted from Zane Grey's celebrated frontier romance of the same title, Beery portrays a corrupt sage in the cattle country, who heads a gang of rustlers and land pirates who persecute Marguerite
Churchill, the heroine, in the hope of being able to drive her off her land, until George O'Brien arrives to oppose them with his daring and determination.

PLAYHOUSE Lovers of fast action
Westerns will find plenty of thrills in
"Near the Rainbow's End." Bob
Steele's first all-talking feature for Tiffany Productions, Inc., which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, J. P. Mcowan directed, and the supporting cast includes Louise Lorraine, Lyle McKee, Al Ferguson and Al Hewson.

COLUMBIA Slim Summerville, THEATRE who has had many partners in his comic acting upon the screen, was, for the very first time, teamed with a male in Universal's "Lasca of the Rio Grande," feature attraction at the Columbia Theatre. And an intelligent male it was too, according to Slim—much more so than a number of actors he knows. His name is Corcoran.

CAPITOL A drama of how a girl
THEATRE finds her own salvation only after she has lost it—how she falls from the heights to the depths and climbs back again only through her great love for a boy whose faith in her is as blind as his eyes—whose love for her is so self-sacrificing and beautiful that it puts her own hypocrisy to shame—that is the story told in "The Miracle Woman," now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

their valuable and popular members.
Miss Baylis during her connection with the D'Oyly Carte Company as understudy to Miss Lewis, had occasioned numerous times to fill the roles played by Miss Lewis, and both by her acting and singing proved a competent substitute.

NOTED CELLIST
APPEARS TONIGHT

Kolla Levenne Will Be Heard in Recital at Royal Victoria
Theatre

Press notices of the very highest order come from almost every country in the world in testimony of the ability of Kolla Levenne, a celloist, who has long been recognized as a leader in the concert field.

One notice reads: "Had Kolla Levenne played nothing but the 'Songs My Mother Taught Me,' he would have convinced us of his ability as a celloist. The tone quality was so beautiful that it reminded one of the reeds of a vibrant pipe-organ."

Ve Ona Socolofsky, dramatic soprano, and Fred Lynch, tenor, assisting artists on the programme tonight, have become well and favorably known either from hearing them in recital, in person, or in hearing them over the National Broadcasting Company stations.

The recital at the Royal tonight at 8:30 o'clock is under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Art Society.
The Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia and Mrs. Portman, the Johnson have very graciously extended their patronage to this, as well as other concerts sponsored by the Musical Art Society.

That Body of Yours

THE IDEAL DIET

Perhaps you often wonder whether or not you and your family are eating the right kinds and amounts of food.

You read about the great body-building power of meat, and you read also that it is "hard on the kidneys."

You read about the need of rough and bulky foods, lettuce, cabbage, asparagus, tomatoes and onions to fill the large intestine with rough waste so that it will be irritated sufficiently to move the wastes along and thus prevent a slowness or stasis of the intestine and constipation. Yet you read that these very foods cause too much gas, causing crampy pains, and that they can so irritate the large intestine that a chronic inflammation, colitis, may result.

Then you read that certain foods are better digested than others, that is, a greater percentage of the nourishment of the food gets into the blood so that a food that may not be as rich or have as many calories, or heat units, may actually give more nourishment than one that is richer in food value.

Another thing you read, and it is true, is that raw eggs give up only about half of their nourishment to the blood, milk gives up only half of its nourishment, and yet milk and raw eggs together, as in an eggnog, each give up considerably more than half their nourishment to the blood.

Raw eggs and raw starch, almost indigestible separately, when taken together, are easily digested.

It is known that potatoes, stewed tomatoes, baked bananas, stewed prunes, stewed corn and beets all give up more nourishment to the blood by the addition of gravy or milk.

It has also been shown that meat, rice, sugar, and small amounts of fat are the best digested of all the foods.

What about all this? It should teach us that when we are in ordinary health, a mixed diet, eating all the different kinds of food—meat, eggs, milk, butter, sugar, vegetables, fruits—is what Nature intended.

Most rice, sugar and small amounts of fat, being so easily digested, would be the ideal diet when we are not hungry, but must eat to keep up our strength. Fruits and vegetables can be increased if there is a tendency to constipation. So don't worry about your diet. The mixed diet, making sure of some raw fruit or vegetable daily, is really the ideal diet.

Perhaps you often wonder whether or not you and your family are eating the right kinds and amounts of food.

You read about the great body-building power of meat, and you read also that it is "hard on the kidneys."

You read about the need of rough and bulky foods, lettuce, cabbage, asparagus, tomatoes and onions to fill the large intestine with rough waste so that it will be irritated sufficiently to move the wastes along and thus prevent a slowness or stasis of the intestine and constipation. Yet you read that these very foods cause too much gas, causing crampy pains, and that they can so irritate the large intestine that a chronic inflammation, colitis, may result.

Then you read that certain foods are better digested than others, that is, a greater percentage of the nourishment of the food gets into the blood so that a food that may not be as rich or have as many calories, or heat units, may actually give more nourishment than one that is richer in food value.

Another thing you read, and it is true, is that raw eggs give up only about half of their nourishment to the blood, milk gives up only half of its nourishment, and yet milk and raw eggs together, as in an eggnog, each give up considerably more than half their nourishment to the blood.
